NECHV Hosted Symposium on Female Veteran Issues

Cmdr Shannon Johnson keynoted

NECHV recently hosted "When Women Return from War - The Long Road Home", a symposium on women in the military and the unique challenges they can face. Moderated by The Honorable Allison Hickey, Under Secretary for Benefits, U.S. Department of Veteran Affairs, the keynote by Captain Shannon J. Johnson, Ph.D., U.S. Navy, presented "Women in the Military, A Profile of Female Veterans." Read more and see photos.

Deloitte Volunteers at NECHV on #ImpactThatMatters Day

Last week, a team of committed volunteers from Deloitte served at the Center as part of their nationwide service day. They helped the Facilities & Maintenance staff in cleaning and preparing Single Room Occupancy units for Veterans, provided professional one-on-one interview trainings in the Veterans Training School, and supported the Kitchen staff in serving the lunch.

Art Show: If You Could March A Mile In My Shoes

Students from Needham High School's Red Cross Club presented an art exhibit If You Could March A Mile In My Shoes, translating the stories of NECHV Veterans into colorful works of art using shoes as canvasses. The exhibit was hosted at the American Red Cross in Cambridge, MA and promoted social awareness of the struggles Veterans can face when returning home.

Catered Meal Program now open for sponsorships!

NECHV will be renovating the kitchen this summer. Show your support for the catered meal program and help us serve 350 Veterans three square meals each day. Sponsor a meal!

NECHV Construction Update: 1st Floor Partial Demolishment

Construction is underway at NECHV, with the Court Street Entrance Vestibule now covered in overhead protection and changes to access. The photo at right shows the 1st Floor Dining Area as a historic ceiling is revealed.
